

December 2013:

New Geriatric Psychiatry Fellowship Program announced

The ACGME recently approved the IOL's application to establish a University of Connecticut/Institute of Living training program in Geriatric Psychiatry, effective July 1, 2014. This will be a joint program between the IOL and UCONN. It will allow the IOL to take advantage of current geriatric psychiatry programming here at the IOL, as well as the growing strength in geriatric psychiatry at UCONN. It will also permit the IOL to forge closer ties with UCONN. The program will be led by Dr. Rehan Aziz, geriatric psychiatrist and Assistant Director of the IOL's General Psychiatry Residency Program. The program will also add to the already robust offerings we have in graduate medical education in adult psychiatry, as well as fellowship programs in psychosomatic medicine and child and adolescent psychiatry.

Webb School students display their art in public

Recently the artwork of Webb School students has been getting some public display. In February, two items by students from the Webb School at Cheshire were included at the 2013 Art Slam at the Capitol Exhibit at the Legislative Office Building in Hartford. Art Slam is an exhibition of Pre-kindergarten to grade 12 student artists from public and private schools throughout CT. Then, during a Youth Art Month Celebration (March 4th-23rd), five more students from the Webb School at Cheshire displayed their works in a beautiful gallery space with young artists from across the state at West Woods Upper Elementary in Farmington. All of the IOL students' artwork in the exhibits were selected by their art teachers, members of the CT Art Education Association, to exemplify diverse styles and media. Many families, friends, and teachers attended the reception.

Dr. Laura Saunders to present at the True Colors conference on March 21st

On March 21, 2013, Laura M. I. Saunders, Psy.D. ABPP, staff psychologist at the IOL/HH will present a Professional Best Practice Seminar at the True Colors conference on: Coming Out and Self-Acceptance in Co-Occuring Mental Illness: A Treatment Model. This evidence-based treatment model will serve as the foundation for a new IOP program in the Young Adult Service at the IOL to address the unique mental health needs of the LGBT community. True Colors organizes the largest LGBT youth conference in the country with more than 2000 attendees and manages the state's only LGBT mentoring program. The conference is held at the University of Connecticut in Storrs. True Colors has been spotlighted by both national and local media for their expertise in LGBT youth issues, including most recently CNN. This ground-breaking organization works collaboratively with other social service agencies, schools, and within communities to ensure the needs of sexual and gender minority youth are recognized and competently met.

The first segment is Wednesday, January 30th at 5PM. Mary Jones is a well known AM radio personality who has just gotten a new time slot - from 3PM to 6PM. Dr. Saunders got to know Ms. Jones after doing several radio interviews following the Sandy Hook tragedy. The focus of her segment will be psychoeducational, addressing developmental milestones, and parenting issues. Dr. Saunders will share some basic research findings and highlight some strategies to improve the quality of family life. The first topic will be: The Psychological Benefits of the Family Dinner. The allotted day/time of her segment is scheduled to be the last Wednesday of each month around 5PM.

IOL holds seminar on "Assessing Dangerousness" on January 18th

Each month at The Institute of Living, the child psychiatry Fellows meet with local psychiatrists, psychologists, attorneys, and judges for a seminar on forensic issues, with emphasis on the areas where psychiatry and the law intersect. This month's scheduled topic was "Assessing Dangerousness". In light of the recent tragedy in Newtown and the current national debate, the scope of the class held on January 18th was expanded to include additional members of the community. The panel members included Dr. Harold I. Schwartz (Psychiatrist-In-Chief at the IOL, who was recently named to Governor Malloy's Sandy Hook Advisory Commission), The Honorable Robert Killian, Jr. (Hartford Probate Court), Rosemary Baggish (Community Education Consultant at the IOL), and Dr. Laurie Singer (Director of Special Education Services for the Farmington Public Schools).

Drs. Schwartz and Bentman of The Institute of Living to serve on the Governor's Sandy Hook Advisory Commission

In the wake of the tragic mass shootings at an elementary school in Sandy Hook (Newtown), Connecticut, in which 26 students and teachers were murdered, Governor Dannel P. Malloy has appointed a commission to look into the issues of gun control, school safety, and mental health that touch on this tragedy. Dr. Harold I. Schwartz, Psychiatrist-in-Chief and Vice-President, Behavioral Health and Dr. Adrienne Bentman, Director of the Psychiatric Residency Program have both been appointed to serve on this critically important 16 member commission. The commission is expected to have an interim report by March 15th, in time to impact legislation in the current legislative session. A final report is expected to be issued in December, 2013.

Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy Internship Track at The Institute of Living

The Anxiety Disorders Center is pleased to announce the addition of a Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy Track to the pre-existing APA-Accredited Predoctoral Internship at The Institute of Living. The CBT Track will be a one-year specialty track and is scheduled to begin September 2013. The track features a year-long part-time rotation at the Anxiety Disorders Center/Center for Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (ADC/CCBT; David F. Tolin, Ph.D., director) as well as additional rotations and electives with other departments including adult or adolescent inpatient services, young adult services, health psychology, schizophrenia rehabilitation, clinical neuropsychology, and clinical health psychology. The CBT Track will provide general training in Clinical Psychology with a focus on cognitive-behavioral therapy and evidence-based practice. Accordingly, training will focus on a practical integration of psychological science and practice. The track will serve as an integrated extension of the current internship and will promote the IOL's exceptional potential to serve as a national leader in education and training.
