

Minimizing Risk of Persistent Postoperative Opioid Use and Postoperative Pain

presented by

Traci Speed, MD, PhD

Dr. Speed is an Assistant Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. She is a clinical expert in the management of patients with chronic pain conditions and comorbid psychiatric conditions. Her primary scientific area of interest examines the underpinning relationship between neuropsychiatric symptoms, pain and sleep with a specific focus to advance evidence-based multidisciplinary pain management for individuals with psychiatric disorders. She completed her MD, PhD, psychiatry residency, and research fellowship at Johns Hopkins.
