

The Status of Disability in Psychiatry: Clinical and Professional Considerations presented by

Marley A. Doyle, MD

Dr. Marley Doyle is an Associate Professor in the University of Nebraska Medical Center Department of Psychiatry and the Director of the Behavioral Health Education Center of Nebraska (BHECN), a state-funded organization whose mission is to recruit and retain a skilled and passionate behavioral health workforce in Nebraska. She is a nationally recognized leader in behavioral health workforce development, particularly in organizational models. Clinically, Dr. Doyle maintains an active practice in women's reproductive psychiatry and works in UNMC's Psychiatric Emergency Services. Dr. Doyle earned her medical degree from Creighton University. She completed her residency in adult psychiatry at McGaw Medical Center of Northwestern University in Chicago, followed by a fellowship in Women's Mental Health at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston. Dr. Doyle is published on a wide range of topics focusing on the behavioral health workforce, the inclusion of disabilities in medicine, and reproductive psychiatry. She has won numerous grants, including $25.5 million in American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funds and teaching awards, and is a Gold Humanism Honor Society member.
