

Advances in the Science and Practice of Suicide Prevention in the Disability Community

presented by

Lauren R. Khazem, Ph.D.

Dr. Khazem is a Research Assistant Professor and clinical psychologist in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Health at The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center. She obtained her PhD in Clinical Psychology from The University of Southern Mississippi in 2018 after completing her predoctoral internship at The Minneapolis VA Medical Center. She completed her postdoctoral training at The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center in 2021. Dr. Khazem's research is focused on identifying unique drivers of suicide risk in the disability community, Veterans, and military personnel. Dr. Khazem integrates these findings in clinical research with the goal of improving the efficacy, accessibility, and reach of suicide prevention assessments and interventions for these populations. She has published over 40 peer-reviewed scholarly articles and has served as Principal- or Co-Investigator on multiple clinical trials funded by the Department of Defense and American Foundation for Suicide Prevention in these areas.
