

Centering Justice and Collective Healing in Child and Family Mental Health presented by

Barbara Robles-Ramamurthy, M.D.

Dr. Barbara Robles-Ramamurthy is a triple board-certified Adult, Child and Adolescent and Forensic Psychiatrist. She is an Assistant Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the University of Texas Health San Antonio where she is the Director of Psychiatric Services at the Bexar County Juvenile Detention Center and the Director of the South Texas Psychiatric Practice-based Research Network. Her scholarly work and research has focused on improving community care and advocacy for historically marginalized communities. She is a nationally recognized leader in mental health equity as it relates to child development with a focus on communities interacting with multiple systems, such as healthcare, immigration, child welfare and juvenile justice and has served on national committees in the American Psychiatric Association and the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. She is a visionary for improving child and family mental health through a holistic and justice-oriented approach that nourishes not only the child and family, but also their communities and the world.
